THE BOSTON MORNING POST.

THURSDAY, JULY 23, 1835.

The Bank's White-washing Committee of the Senate.—A late number of the Washington Globe contains a review of the result of the labors of this committee, which states some important facts necessary and proper to be known, in relation to the manner in which its duties were discharged.

This Committee, after the resignation of Mr. Wilkins, consisted of Messrs Webster, Tyler, Ewing and Mangum—all opponents of the administration, and the friends of the Bank; and all anxious to hide its deformities and magnify its virtues.

Congress adjourned on the 30th June, and the first which was heard of this Bank Committee afterwards, was at Philadelphia, at the Bank whig celebration of the 4th of July, making speeches, toasting and being toasted, in the different congressional districts. Subsequently, they were occasionally heard of in Boston, Providence, New York and Philadelphia—and one of them, at least, was in New York on the last night of the election, addressing the people from the windows of his lodgings.

On the 18th of December, Mr. Tyler made a Report to the Senate—or what purported to be a Report—a document of such a character that no one but himself would offer to defend it. Mr. Benton gave notice that he would expose its fallacies and its partiality for the Bank, whenever he could obtain an opportunity; and although that opportunity was promised, it could never be obtained—being always postponed by some of those subtleties which the friends of the Bank, and the enemies of the government, are so ingenious in inventing.

It appears that, notwithstanding the manner in which this committee discharged its duties, its members kept a strict eye on the main chance, the compensation—and that each one of them made out to charge the government a pretty round sum for services rendered the Bank, in whitewashing its character. The job, we confess, was a dirty one, and that may account for the amount of their respective bills.

Mr. Webster's account, rendered to the Clerk of the Senate, was:—

Mileage from Boston to New York and back, 506 miles,	$302 40
Thirty days attendance on duties of committee,	240 00
	$542 40

This journey of Mr. Webster's, for which he charged the sum of $542.40, it should be recollected, was made at the period of the New York election, when and where Mr. Webster addressed the populace, and when and where it was understood, had the election resulted differently, Mr. Webster was to have been nominated for the presidency by acclamation.

Next we come to Mr. Tyler's bill, which is as follows:—

Travel to and from Philadelphia, under orders of the committee, in July,	726 miles.
Travel to and from Norfolk, to look into the Branch there, &c., in all,	90 "
Ditto for same purpose, at Richmond, in all,	176 "
Ditto, to and from, and looking into the Branch there, at Providence, &c.,	1456 "
Ditto, at Washington, for same purpose, and so turning,	426 "
Total travelling,	2,844 miles.

Mr. Tyler states:—

"For the few days when I was at home, I was engaged in extensive correspondence on the subject indicated by the resolution, and in weighing facts collected, deducting results, and preparing the report on the Bank. In other words, the order of the Senate had the effect of separating me almost entirely from my private affairs. I charge, therefore, a per diem for the whole recess, subtracting twenty-two days for travelling."

2,844 miles, at 40 cents,	$1,137 60
Number of days in recess, 153	22
Subtotal	$1,159 60
Days employed,	131 at $1,048 00
	$2,187 60

Next comes Mr. Ewing, who states:—

"At the close of the session of 1834, I went to the city of Philadelphia, to attend a meeting of the Committee of Finance pursuant to notice from the Chairman. The distance from Washington to Philadelphia, the increased distance home, in consequence of going there, together, amount to 280 miles, at 40 cents, is $112 00
7 days service in committee at Philadelphia, 1 spent in Ohio ten days, in the performance of duties assigned on me by the committee, 89 00
Travel from Lancaster, Ohio, to Boston, Mass., 350 miles, 340 00
I attended the committee at Boston, Providence, and Philadelphia, Aug. and Sept., 21 days, excluding days of travelling, 162 00
And travelling from Boston via Providence, N. York, and Philadelphia, to Washington city, 350 miles, 340 00
$596 00

Lastly, we have Mr. Mangum's bill:—

1. From Washington to Philadelphia,	miles 160
2. Philadelphia to Washington,	150
3. Residence in North Carolina to Boston via Washington,	815
4. Boston to Philadelphia via Providence,	350
5. Philadelphia to New York,	100
6. New York to Philadelphia,	100
7. Philadelphia to Washington,	150
8. Washington home via Norfolk,	315
	Miles, 2130
110 days from home, exclusive of travel, 2130	852 00
at 40 cents,	890 00
110 days at $8,	$1,732 00

The whole expense of whitewashing the Bank, it will be perceived, was FIVE THOUSAND TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY SIX DOLLARS; in justice a portion of that sum should be paid by the Whig party, in consideration of the services rendered by the Committee in making public harangues whenever occasion offered, which, it will be recollected, was quite often. Their journeys were generally so arranged as to bring them to elections, caucuses, and public dinners, their progress bearing a much greater resemblance to the rounds of a stump candidate at the West, than to an official mission to the several branches of the Bank of the U. States.—Not only did they prostitute their appointments to the promotion of the whig cause, but they neglected some of the most important objects of their mission, for the reason, apparently, that they could not investigate them without laying open the field rottenness of the God of their political idolatry.

The remark about Daniel Webster, which the Atlas has falsely and repeatedly attributed to the Post, never was printed in that paper, nor in any other of which the Editor of the Post had the control; we never read it before we saw it in the columns of the Atlas. The miserable attempt at deception in this matter, on the part of the Atlas, is a more paltry trick than we before believed even that paper capable of practising.

The Boston Advocate is in favor of the appointment of B. F. Butler, the Attorney General of the U. S. to the office of Chief Justice.

The Livingston Dinner, in Philadelphia, on Saturday, was a splendid affair. The Hon. Geo. M. Dallas presided. Among the invited guests were the Hon. John H. Eaton, and several officers of the army and of the navy. The Sentinel says:—

"Mr. DALLAS, in announcing the third regular toast, the subject of which was the guest of the day, made an address to the company, in which he most eloquently reviewed the character and distinguished services of Mr. LIVINGSTON. Every sentiment to which he gave utterance, seemed to find an immediate response in the hearts of the listeners. Mr. LIVINGSTON made a reply at some length, delivered with much emotion of manner, but in excellent taste. In the course of his remarks he said, that 'national suffering might be mitigated, national credit redeemed, national pecuniary losses sustained, and national resources, if paralyzed, might be reinvigorated—but national honor, if once lost, could never be recovered.' His speech was enthusiastically received. It concluded with a toast, the subject of which was recommending of firmness among ourselves in the assertion of our rights and honor, but calmness and the exercise of judgment in determining upon final measures, if they should, which he trusted would not be the case, become necessary.

Worcester Convention.—It has been recommended by a County Convention held in Berkshire, (the proceedings of which we published some time since), that a State Convention of democratic young men be held at Worcester, in September next, for the purpose of taking such measures as will have a tendency to secure the success of the Democratic Ticket at the general Fall Election. As the time is near at hand, it is necessary that there should be, very soon, some definite action upon the subject. If the proposition meets the approbation of the party in the different sections of the State, we hope an expression of such approval will be immediately given, in order that we may move, in all quarters, understandingly and unitedly. We think the plan an excellent one, and highly necessary, and hope it will be carried into execution with energy and enthusiasm. Will the Democratic journals, in the different counties, express their opinions upon this subject?

The Wythe C. H. (Va.) Argus gives an account of a family of dwarfs, residing in that county, who are all remarkable for their handsome forms, and fine proportions:—

"There are two males and two females—the height of the eldest, who is a male and in his 25th year, is 3 ft 6 in. and his weight 34 pounds. The other male is in his 9th year, and is 2 feet 7 1/4 inches high, and he weighs 21 pounds. The eldest female is in her 11th year, and is 2 ft. 12 in. high, and weighs 27 pounds. The other female is in her 7th year, is 2 ft. 11 1/4 in. high, and weighs 27 pounds."

The late breach of promise case, in New York, was a God-send to the Transcript of that city—the publishers sold 50,000 extra copies of their paper, containing the Report of the Trial, and 20,000 copies of the Report, printed in a pamphlet form—the profits of which they say they "pocketed on their own hook." We wish they would hang some of their profits on our hook.

A feeling and pathetic attestation.—We copy the following paragraph from the Providence Journal, with tears in our eyes for the past suffering of our unfortunate brother:—

"Hawkins's Patent Cast Steel Homes.—From more than a year's happy experience in the use of this superior article, and from many years of previous suffering and distress, we feel called upon by every consideration of philanthropy to recommend it to every one who is doomed to shave."

Sympathy.—The Boston Atlas, in quoting the language of a paper printed in this city, which thinks that the N. H. Patriot, Albany Argus, and Washington Globe are not democratic enough, says:—

"THIS IS JUST THE DOCTRINE WE HAVE BEEN PREACHING FOR THE LAST TWO YEARS."

The stock in the Rail Road from Portsmouth to Massachusetts line is entirely taken up. The anxiety to obtain stock was so great, that the Committee were induced to increase the capital stock fifty thousand dollars beyond what was contemplated by the meeting on the 14th instant.

A Mistake.—The N. Y. Star says that Gen. Harrison is spoken of seriously as a candidate for the Vice Presidency. This is a mistake, Major, for no one speaks of the General as a candidate for the Vice Presidency without laughing.

The Grand Jury of the city of New York have presented the paper called The Light, as a public nuisance. The same filthy sheet is widely circulated in this city. It is worse, if possible, than McDowell's Journal—and that is saying considerable.

"We learn that the celebrated and beautiful statue of 'CLEOPATRA' is in the city and will be ready for exhibition in a few days. Several bachelors from Philadelphia and New York have followed it on, under the hallucinating belief that they are in the train of 'Egypt's living Queen.'"

Most all of our cotemporaries have "read Mr Goodrich's Address, with pleasure;"—there are those who are fond of Old Jamaica, notwithstanding the influence of Temperance Societies.

The following sentiment was given at Lynn, on the 4th instant:—

Judge Thacher's opinion of Corporations—like the hump-backed whale—it lacks head-matter.

Remarkable Escape.—A boy fell, on Tuesday, from the third story of Curtis & Leavens' store in State street, to the pavement, and only slightly sprained his ankle.

The Mercantile Journal states, that a son of the late Mrs Hemans is now in this city, and that he will probably go through a course of studies at one of our New England Universities.

Horrid.—A maniac in the vicinity of London recently put out both his eyes, and cut off his nose even with his face, and when discovered was in the act of sawing off one of his legs above the knee.

The Steamboat McDonough is to ply between Portland and Gardiner on the Kennebec river after the 1st of next month, at which time the new steamer Portland will be put on the line for this city.

The most precious book of the day is "Coleridge's Table Talk," lately re-published by the Harpers—it is a mine of intellectual diamonds.

The Steamboats Boston and Providence, will for the future leave Providence and New York on Sundays.

POLICE COURT.

Assault and Battery.—The pagilistic pestilence appears to prevail, this season, to a most alarming extent: all ages, sexes, ranks and places seem to be affected with it; and we actually want a national war, to carry off the superabundance of fight with which our "social system" is surcharged. These vile intestine commotions within the borders of our own territories, are extremely annoying, and morally unhealthy, and in direct contempt of the authority of Lord Bacon:—"A civil war," says he, "is like the heat of a fever; but a foreign war is like the heat of exercise, and serveth to keep the body in health." From which, it is right to infer, that if we have a set-to with Philip of France, and drub the twenty-five millions out of him, we shall not only "the general coffers fill," but save considerable in doctors' bills. We have a case in point in the South Carolina disorder:—Had the United States been busily employed in hanging the French, would Doctor Cooper ever have attempted to physic our Constitution with his tremendous and newly-invented pill, Nullification, which threw the whole nation, from the heart to its remotest extremities, into a cold sweat, besides raising the price of saltpetre and "Leather Preservative" for artillery harness.

Out of the host of bruisers brought up this week, not yet reported, we select Jabez Howes, a stout juvenile of seventeen. He was one of a gang, "food for powder," who have been in the habit of standing at the corner of streets, and jostling people from the side-walks, and then falling upon them and beating them, if they made any remark upon their insolent behavior. A fortnight ago last Sunday, Howes and another lad of his own age, named Thophilus Nash, and others, ran up to a peaceable Irishman in Ann street, and, without the least provocation, knocked him down, and kicked him savagely after he was down. Constable Ellis was at hand, and secured Nash, who, upon complaint of the City Marshal, was fined $3 33, and costs—the extent of the Court's final jurisdiction—for his share in the outrage.

Howes and the others escaped; but on Sunday, in company with the same, or a similar gang, in Pond street, he went up to a man, and for the purpose of fastening a quarrel upon him, charged him with having insulted one of his companions, and before the man had the least suspicion of a meditated attack, Howes struck him a severe blow, and ran off amidst the shouts of his backers. Upon complaint of the City Marshal he was arrested by Veteran Reid, and fined, for the assault on Irishman $3 33, and costs, and an equal sum for the second—amounting altogether to about $14.00.

Our attention has been called particularly to these cases by the City Marshal, who is determined to make an example of every offender brought to his knowledge; and the necessity of his determination, will be manifest to those who recollect the murder of Rich in Ann street, two years ago. Precisely in the manner that the Irish man referred to, was attacked, Mr. Rich was jostled from the pavement, and kicked to death by a collection of boys, in a few minutes.

* During the period of highest excitement upon the subject of nullification, considerable quantities of this article was shipped for South Carolina.

Jane Noble Parker was brought up on the complaint of a female neighbor, for most cruelly and continually beating her own little daughter, by a former husband. Her cruelty was chiefly the result of intemperance. Two months in the House of Correction.

Owen McCormack, for beating his own sister, was arrested by the watch. Fined $1.50. She seemed to require considerable dressing, as she testified with a winter cloak on, though the Court room was hot enough to parboil one's shoes with the perspiration from the feet.

"Back Again."—The way Tom Ward cut stick, after he escaped from our jail, wasn't slow; but it was not quite equal to the swiftness of his return:—Constable Pierce started with him from New York at six o'clock on Tuesday morning, and lodged him in Boston Jail at Half Past Nine on Tuesday evening.

A Rail Road is talked of from Brattleboro' to Springfield, to connect with the road from the latter place to Hartford. The citizens of B. have held a meeting upon the subject.

The Nantucket Inquirer is inviting the Whales back to that vicinity—we suspect, however, that old Mr. Spermaceti is not to be caught with compliments.

Mr. Tonzard, from this city, proposes to make a balloon ascension at Portland on the 12th of August, if the Downings will pay him enough for it.

The N. Y. Star says "there never has been a greater demand for labor, in the city, than at the present time." All owing to the removal of the deposits—eh? Major?

"The Industrious Fleas" are off—the public would not be gum'd, if the fleas were.

Joice Heth, aged 161.—The Philadelphia papers say that this old woman is very cheerful, fond of singing, and laughs at a good joke. She was born in 1674.

Is she a candidate for matrimony?

New Orleans, July 6.—Captain Marsh, of the brig Ajax, just arrived from Campechy, informs us that the greatest alarm existed at that place among all American citizens, fearing assassination, with which they were openly threatened by the desperadoes in office. The American Consul was compelled to keep within doors, barricaded and armed, apprehending an attack. Capt. M. further states, that he heard while there, of an American officer who had attempted to go to the city from one of our sloops of war, and who had, by adverse winds, been compelled to land about five miles distant from Campechy, where he and his men were subject to the greatest insult—they were imprisoned, and threatened to be tied to the tails of asses and dragged up to Campechy.

The following is an extract of a letter from the American Consul at Campechy, dated 23d June:—"Were my affairs arranged, I should endeavor to escape this night from the risk of death to which I am exposed by the use making here of the general protest relative to the brig Ophir. Should not a vessel of war relieve us in a few days, neither Captain Brittingham nor myself can expect any mercy from these desperos."

A Slavery Meeting was held yesterday afternoon in Tammany Hall, which was attended by about three hundred gentlemen from the Southern States. It was conducted with great courtesy and gentlemanly feeling, as indeed all such things generally are by the people of the South. A report and resolution were read, several eloquent speeches made, and they separated peaceably and orderly.—N. Y. Morning Herald.

Municipal.—At a meeting of the Mayor and Aldermen on Monday:—

Dr. Smith, the Resident Physician at Rainsford Island, reported, that the only patient at the Hospital on that Island was discharged on Monday morning; and that the Island is now entirely free from sickness, for the first time since the commencement of the present year. There has not been a death here in seven months, and although there have been thirty-two cases of small pox and varioloid since January, every individual has been discha'ged well, and in good health.

Ordered, That the Mayor, Aldermen Greble and Leighton, be a committee to make arrangements and provide a dinner at Faneuil Hall, on the anniversary of the exhibition of the Public Schools in August next.—Petition of John K. Simpson and others, to have Union, Market, Elm streets and Dock square so graded as that the over-ground-water may pass off. Application of H. H. & A. R. Fuller for leave to remove their Circus to South Boston, for one year—also of John Harrington to be licensed to exhibit as a Ventriloquist, &c. together with the Chinese lady, at Washington Hall, severally referred. The following persons were approved and warranted as officers in the Fire Department. Engine Company No. 1—Wm. H. Fowle, 1st assistant Foreman—George W. Sweet, 2d do do. Engine Company No. 5—Albert Woods, 1st assistant Foreman—Abiel S. Lewis, 2d do do. Francis Holmes, Treasurer—W. B. Spaulding, Clerk—Philip Loud, assistant do.

Vermont.—There is trouble somewhere among the Green Mountains, we reckon, or the federalists expect it, in a way they were unprepared to meet. The Albany Daily Advertiser cries like a great baby about a sale which he fancies has been made of the federalists, anti-masons and all, by some of their backsliding leaders.

As the disconsolate are apt to vent their grief in poetry, so the Albany editor lugs in a fine specimen of rhyme, thus:—

"The bargain has been made,
The consideration in part has been paid,
And the people are betrayed."

And then he winds off by solemnly warning the Vermonters of their awful situation, as though he feared that Van Burenism would come upon them in the shape of a volcano, or a comet, or an avalanche. There is no mistaking the case; the federalists in that state are "used up."—Buffalo Star.

Nominations in Georgia.—The Union party in Georgia held a Convention at Milledgeville on the 1st inst. for the purpose of making nominations. They first proceeded to the nomination of a President of the United States. This resulted in the selection of Martin Van Buren by 150 votes, there being two votes for Judge White, and one for Mr. Benton. On the nomination for a Vice President, Richard M. Johnson had 130 votes, William C. Rives 10, and there were four scattering.

On balloting for candidates to fill the two vacancies in Congress, Jabez Jackson, Esq. and Col. Jesse F. Cleveland were nominated. A nomination was then made of the Hon. William Schley, for the office of Governor.

Swallowing.—A young man, after entering into a marriage engagement, communicated the circumstance to a friend with the name of his intended bride.

"Indeed," said my friend, "you are aware she has been a mother, but not a wife?"
"Yes, but I love her well enough to swallow that."
"What is worse, she has two children."
"The lover scratched his head—"
"I did not know that," said he "but—I love her well enough to swallow that."
"Still more," said his informant, "the last was a black one."
"If I swallow that, d—n me."—Good!

Mr. Postmaster Greene, has received a letter from St. Louis, dated June 24, 1835, which states that a carriage maker, supposed from Boston, by the name of John W. Carpenter, died on the 22d, of cholera, having left about $200 in money, and is the owner of land to the amount of about $500. The letter, which contains further information, may be seen on application to the Post Office.

A Female Horse Thief.—A person by the name of Charles Stewart, was convicted in the Court of Sessions, New York city, on a charge of stealing a horse. After the conviction, says the Mercantile Advertiser, the prisoner informed the counsel that she was a woman, and on investigation it was found that her declaration was true; she stated that she was a native of the Highlands of Scotland, and that she had resided on Long Island, the last four years, in the garb of a man.—Proc. Jour.

Mutiny.—We learn from Captain Harding of the Romulus from Liverpool, that on the morning of the 13th inst. a part of the crew mutinied, and have persisted in refusing to do duty since that date. The lives and property on board were in great jeopardy, and had it not been for the assistance and support of the passengers the vessel would have been lost.—N. Y. Gaz.

A Great Crash.—During the celebration of the 4th of July at Mobile, while the procession was entering the Episcopal Church, the whole lower floor, from the pillars that support the orchestra gallery, gave way and fell to the ground with a tremendous crash. Fortunately, however, no one was materially injured.

Mr. Pontalba, lately deceased at New Orleans, left the whole of his property in that city, valued at 1,000,000 francs, to the corporation of Mont L'Eveque, for the education of sixty young persons, from Mont L'Eveque, Senlis, and New Orleans: twenty from each.

Several gentlemen, in Portsmouth, (N. H.) are about forming themselves into a Whaling Company with a capital of $100,000, to be divided into 400 shares, of $250 each. They propose to fit away one ship the present season, and one each succeeding year, until the first returns.

Capt. Back.—Mr. Simpson has received advice from Capt. Back, dated at Fort Reliance, near Slave Lake, 7th Dec, 1834, when that officer and the party under his command, were in excellent health and spirits.

The rail road from Harrisburg to Lancaster is already put under contract. Estimated cost only $12,000 per mile. It will have 3 or 4 curves, and none of these less than 1200 feet radius. The route also will be shorter by 6 miles than by the present canal and rail road, via Columbia.

The decisions of Judge Yell, the newly appointed circuit judge of Arkansas, are said to give general satisfaction there. It is asserted that he displays great energy, and makes the parties all "stand up to the rack, fodder or no fodder." He must be a screamer.

A Mr. Nossiter, an Englishman, and cabinet maker, was recently drowned, together with his little son, whom he was carrying on his back, while bathing in a mill-pond at Morristown, New Jersey.

Jail Burned.—The Jail of Green County, at Waynesburg, Pa. was destroyed by fire on the night of the 8th instant; it is supposed that it was set on fire by one of the prisoners.

The harbor of Erie (Lake Erie) has been found to be in every part from 10 to 20 feet deep, amply sufficient therefore, for all classes of steamers.

The supposed sea serpent lately caught in the St. Lawrence, turns out to be a Cannantia, or sea cow. Mr. Snowden, the editor of the Alexandria Gazette, is to deliver an eulogy on Judge Marshall.

ANCIENT AND HONORABLE ARTILLERY NOTICE.—At a meeting on the 16th ult. it was voted, "that the company will proceed to Worcester on Monday, August 3d, on a tour of Camp Duty." Agreeably to a vote passed at the same meeting—the members are hereby notified, there will be a meeting at their Armory each Monday and Thursday Evening, 8 o'clock, till August, for business and drill. GEO. H. WHITMAN, Clerk.

A CARD.—The party who made an excursion in the Hingham Packet Brilliant, on Tuesday last, beg leave to tender their thanks to Capt. Reed for his kindness and gentlemanly conduct while on board his vessel. They also tender their acknowledgments to Mr. Silas Hall, of the Quantum Hotel, for the courtesy and disinterested kindness which he evinced towards them while ashore at that place.

MARRIED.
In New York, Alfred Bragg to Miss Charlotte Brown, of Boston.
In Baltimore, by Rev. Mr. Harrison, Eugene Post, of New York, to Priscilla Ridgely, daughter of George Howard Esq., late Governor of Maryland.

DIED.
In this city, on Tuesday morning, suddenly, David Putnam, 52.
On Tuesday, Miss Margaret, youngest daughter of Henry Blaney, 22.
On Tuesday, Mrs Mary Dickinson, wife of John Dickinson, 24 years.
On Saturday, Adelaide C. N., daughter of Mr John Mellen, 2 yrs.
In Charlestown, on Monday last, Mary Call, daughter of A. M. and Mary Gimby, 3 yrs.
In North Andover, Mrs Sarah Pickman, wife of Rev Bailey Loring.
In Hyde Park, N. Y., on the 12th inst. of consumption, Frances Anne, wife of Jared Sparks Esq. of Cambridge.
In Cincinnati, 12th inst, Elizabeth B. Coolidge, daughter of the late Charles Coolidge, of Boston, 13.
